Additional Funding Approved for Recovery Act

President Obama signed the U.S. Department of Defense (DOD) appropriations bill which included $125 million to continue through Feb. 28, 2010, the enhancements made possible through the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) to SBA's two largest loan programs. The SBA estimates this additional funding will support $4.5 billion in small business lending.

New approvals of loans with the higher guarantee and reduced fees made possible by ARRA have begun. Loan applications from borrowers who chose to be placed in the SBA's Recovery Loan Queue will be funded first, followed by new loan approvals beginning on or before Dec. 28.

The extension included in the DOD bill authorizes the higher guarantee levels through Feb. 28, 2010. The fee relief is authorized until this additional funding is exhausted or the end of the fiscal year, whichever comes first. As was the case in November, SBA will transition into a queue system as the funds start to wind down in order to ensure the maximum simulative effect of the programs and disbursement of funds.

For non-ARRA 7(a) or 504 loans funded during the transition period, this extension does not provide a retroactive guarantee or waived fees. Loans that were funded under non-ARRA terms cannot be canceled and resubmitted to take advantage of the ARRA extension provisions.

This extension does not affect other SBA ARRA programs, including the America's Recovery Capital (ARC) loan program or the agency's microloans. ARRA funding still remains for both of those programs.
